RESEARCH & CONSULTING EXPERIENCE

Emory University School of Medicine Postdoctoral Residency in Health Service Psychology

Grady Trauma Project, Atlanta, GA

Postdoctoral Resident, August 2021 – July 2023

Training Director: Nadine Kaslow, PhD, ABPP

- Grady Health System Trauma-Informed Care Project

Co-Principal Investigator and Study Coordinator, August 2021 – July 2023

- Develop and administer primary care-wide survey assessing Grady Health System providers' knowledge regarding trauma/PTSD, comfort with caring for trauma-exposed patients, use of specific trauma-informed practices, attitudes towards trauma-informed care and the medical system, personal and professional trauma history, and overall well-being
 - Trained >155 resident and faculty physicians, nurses, and certified medical assistants in trauma-informed care and universal PTSD screening
 - Findings supported the rollout of universal trauma/PTSD screening program within Grady primary care
- Principal Investigator: Tamara Haynes, MD, PhD

Other Co-PIs: Abigail Powers Lott, PhD, ABPP, & Stan Sonu, MD, MPH

- Fani Affective Neuroscience Lab

Postdoctoral Member, August 2021 – July 2023

- Provide clinical consultation, risk assessment, and safety planning services for a NIH-funded, randomized clinical trial (i.e., Neural Mechanisms of Vibroacoustically Augmented Breath Focused Mindfulness for Dissociative Traumatized People)
- Supervise undergraduate and graduate student clinical research

Lab Head: Negar Fani, PhD

Grady Trauma Recovery Center

Grady Memorial Hospital, Atlanta, GA

Program Evaluator, August 2022 – July 2023

- Led the development of a program evaluation protocol, including project goals and objectives, for a new clinic that provides wraparound medical, psychological, and social services for DeKalb/Fulton county residents with histories of intimate partner violence, gun violence, sexual assault or human trafficking
- Currently extracting electronic medical record data to document clinic flow (i.e., referral source, service use) and patient outcomes (i.e., hospital readmission, emergency department visits, diagnoses, etc.)

Directors: Tamara Haynes, MD, PhD & Abigail Lott, PhD, ABPP

Alcohol and Sexual Assault Prevention Lab

Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA

Postdoctoral Member, August 2021 – July 2023

- Contributed to graduate and undergraduate student research on sexual assault prevention

Lab Head: Amanda Gilmore, PhD

Science Gallery Atlanta HOOKED Exhibition

Grady Trauma Project, Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, GA

Consultant, August 2021 – April 2022

- Provided expertise in trauma-informed care during the development and execution of and interviewed participants for a short video instillation highlighting individuals' experiences with substance use and trauma

Center on Neurobehavioral Research on Addiction, UTHealth-Houston, Houston, TX

Doctoral Intern Researcher, July 2020 – June 2021

- Assessed patients' eligibility for a randomized clinical trial comparing abstinence rates of Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT) in combination with contingency management vs. standard drug counseling and contingency management vs. modafinil among cocaine-dependent adults (i.e., National Institute on Drug Abuse – Developing Adaptive Interventions for Cocaine Cessation and Relapse Prevention)
- Collaborated with postdoctoral researchers on an F32 grant examining pre-/post-treatment electroencephalograms (EEGs) among treatment responders v. non-responders as well as patients with v. without trauma histories

Principal Investigator: Joy Schmitz, PhD

Department of Justice Bureau of Justice Assistance – Sexual Assault Kit Initiative (SAKI)

City of Mobile Police Department, Mobile, AL

Graduate Research Assistant, Action-Oriented Research and Program Evaluation Team, Aug 2016 – July 2021

SAKI FY2017, Investigation and Prosecution, Grant No. 2017-AK-BX-0006 July 2017 – July 2021

- Evaluated the effectiveness of the City of Mobile Police Department (MPD) implementation of an evidence-based, trauma-informed victim notification protocol
- Supervised undergraduate and graduate coders on data collection and entry
- Developed and administered two department-wide surveys investigating police officers' perceptions of sexual assault across time; successfully defended dissertation on these data

- Developed a community polling survey to assess citizens’ perceptions of the city’s investigation and prosecution of sexual assault and community safety

SAKI FY2015, Testing Untested SAKs, Grant No. 2015-AK-BX-K003

Aug 2016 – Sept 2018

- Evaluated the effectiveness of MPD’s implementation of an interdisciplinary, multi-level approach to addressing unsubmitted SAKs and development of a trauma-informed community response to sexual assault
- Assisted law enforcement with developing a plan to submit Mobile, AL’s previously unsubmitted SAKs for forensic testing and to implement long-term policy and programmatic interventions to prevent backlogs from re-occurring
- Supervised research teams of graduate and undergraduate coders

Principal Investigators: Jennifer Langhinrichsen-Rohling, PhD, & James “Tres” Stefurak, PhD

BITTEN Model Research Team

University of South Alabama, Mobile, AL; University of North Carolina - Charlotte, Charlotte, NC

Core Researcher, Mar 2018 – Present

- Collaborated with an interdisciplinary team to develop an applied, trauma-informed, patient-centered theoretical framework of healthcare provision, the BITTEN model, and a corresponding measure
- Conducted consensual qualitative coding on responses from rare disease and palliative care patients

Core Research Team: Chrystal Lewis, PhD, RN, Jennifer Langhinrichsen-Rohling, PhD, & Candice Selwyn, PhD

Mobile Diagnostic Center at Providence Hospital

University of South Alabama Integrative Health, Mobile, AL

Organizational Consultant, Nov 2019 – June 2020

- Developed group protocols for patients and providers with behavioral health concerns

Supervisor: Kimberly Zlomke, PhD

Health Resources and Services Administration – Advanced Nursing Education-Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (ANE-SANE) Program, College of Nursing, University of South Alabama, Mobile, AL

Researcher, July 2019 – July 2020

- Worked on an interdisciplinary team to evaluate the development and implementation of USA’s accredited College of Nursing’s Advance Forensic Nursing Care Program (i.e., a specialized SANE training program)
- Assisted in the design and implementation of data collection procedures among graduate nursing students and faculty

Research Mentor: Candice Selwyn, PhD

Gulf Coast Behavioral Health and Resiliency Center (GCBHRC), Mobile, AL

Graduate Research Assistant, Aug 2016 – Dec 2018

- Facilitated program development, outcome assessment, and delivery of integrated healthcare services within Mobile County, AL

Executive Director: Jennifer Langhinrichsen-Rohling, PhD

Family Health Women’s Health Center, Mobile County Health Department July 2017 – Dec 2018

- Developed, administered, and analyzed research survey data examining relations among interpersonal trauma exposure and behavioral and physical health in a sample of underserved patients seeking care at a women’s primary care clinic in an FQHC
